To the Health and Communities Committee

Good Morning

We have heard that no-one likes abortion and that it should be rare and safe. Will the bill which is about to be considered by the Parliament motivate people to this end? Will the passage of this bill lead people to consider the serious nature of abortion or will it lead many to consider it more trivial? Do many women seek abortions because pregnancy is an inconvenience in their careers or life-style? It seems to me that many do consider it this way. I ask you to oppose the bill and to lead the people of Queensland into a better way.

Sincerely

John D. Browne
