I am in favour of abortion law reform which recognises my right to bodily autonomy. A zygote or foetus is not a sentient being capable of self-awareness within my uterus and even if it WERE then as long as MY BODY directly sustains it then only I should be the author of its fate. Pregnancy is a risky process which can potentially cause temporary disability, sickness, injury or death and noone should ever be allowed to coerce or attempt to coerce me to undertake it.

When I choose to have children it will be when my partner and I choose to, at a time we BOTH agree on, to best ensure our safety and maximise the opportunities for our offspring. The opinion of others on whether or not I undertake a risky and potentially deadly process to grow and sustain a life is completely irrelevant and should have zero moral or legal influence or implications on me.

It's MY life and MY body.

Please reform QLD abortion laws.
