When a heart beats ,life is present.if anyone has a child born from 20 weeks gestation ,chances are that child can live. If someone were to come and kill that child ,they would be charged with murder,.why then would anyone think to make it legal for a child to be aborted once a heartbeat is detected for that child ? Please do not allow this to happen. There are so many people willing and waiting to adopt ,surely this is a far more acceptable solution to an unwanted pregnancy .
