I, Beverley Robinson of [REDACTED], STRONGLY OBJECT to Mr Pyne's proposed bill and be one voice for the voiceless.

Do we address the plight of women who see abortion as a solution, by ignoring the serious and psychological effects of abortion?

Do we abort a term foetus one day and convict another who murders a baby in the days after birth?

How do we justify this bill in the light of overwhelming community opposition to the change in the law?

How is it possible that the bill could be used to coerce medical staff to perform or have a part in this barbaric procedure, against their own conscience?

I well recall a letter to the editor in the Time magazine, some years ago by Tony Doevendans who congratulated his parents for not aborting him in spite of his spina bifida.

It is with great interest I see that this young man is singing at the opening of the para-olympics.

How short sighted we are in thinking that abortion is the answer.
