Gentlemen/Madam,

One of the famous personalities in the world once said, "If we can accept that a mother can kill her own child in her womb, then do we possess a moral suasion to tell other people not to kill one another?" So why do we make a fuss when people kill, rape and do other heinous crimes? If we allow this to be done to a helpless individual, why be angry if it is done to someone who can fight? We don't because we are a civilised society. But, then, do we have a right to call ourselves civilised when we allow the killing of unborn babies?

Bill Shorten said last 13 September 2016, "I think we've got to look after the most vulnerable in our society as a priority." This was seconded by our Premier Ms. Palaszczuk when she said yesterday that we have to protect the vulnerable children in our society. Isn't a helpless child in the womb vulnerable?

In the Google search engine, there are so many evidences in the world that prove that the unborn child in the womb of the mother is a human being with potential:

- Body parts of unborn babies being aborted in the clinics of Planned Parenthood are being harvested for sale
- Unborn babies responding to music and reacts on the same music after birth
- Unborn babies feeling excruciating pain and fighting to save his/her life during abortion procedure captured in films
- Manslaughter charges to anyone causing death to unborn babies (double standard in our law)
- Recently, an unborn baby was operated in one of our hospitals to correct a congenital defect
- Vitamins for would-be mothers to ensure a healthy baby while under gestation in the womb

In short, you will be overwhelmed by thousands of evidences that a baby in the womb of a mother is a human being, like us but helpless, vulnerable, can feel pain and react to the feelings of a mother. We all passed through the development in the womb of our mothers. And we are now in this world because our parents chose life. Can we not extend that same opportunity to the unborn to be happy and experience the beauty of life?

And so I now plead with each member of the Committee in behalf of the unborn babies who have the potential of being great Queenslanders ( especially future Origin players or Olympic players) and Australians, please let us give them chance to celebrate HAPPY BIRTHDAYs!!! DO NOT PASS THE ABORTION BILL.

Sincerely,

AM Deverala

PS. There is undoubtedly a mission for everyone born into this world. The mother of Justin Bieber, during her pregnancy with Justin, was being pressured to abort him because of poverty. However, she believed that the little child in her womb was not sent to destroy her happiness, but to offer her a chance to gain it in a different way. And she ultimately gained this overwhelming happiness by looking at her bank account. There are so many true stories of similar situations happened to famous personalities who, because they were allowed to live, had contributed to make this world a better place, which could not have been had they been aborted. Please don't approve the Abortion Bill.
