Dear Sir

What i know of abortion is alarming, procedures the practice itself i myself would not wish for laws to be in place which can terminate pregnancy for an indefinite period of faetal development such is frightening a horrible prospect to the developed unborn i wish to inform that this SSM things have been allowed to go too far does this help a mother late in her term the emotional trauma would be abominable what a prospect surely differing opinions must be regarded a woman should have support is this method natural to a distraught woman please have understanding consideration compassion and deter from such causes to humanities detriment there's trauma to be considered on behalf of the mother when indeed motherhood twas nature's intention
Sincerely Christian Kross
