I am a mother of 6 children (12 with my sons and daughters in law) and I am a proud grandma of 15 born grand children and three more to be born in Oct this year. No, I am not a Catholic but I have chosen good against evil so I do not know how some human being is looking so easy at a beautiful life given as a special gift. Only a very pour soul can not feel the love and joy of the little life beating their little hearts looking at you with a smile for help and love. No one can live without a loving heart...I acknowledge some tragedies for some parents and little angels. And I feel overwhelmed of their dedication. If Mr Pine had a tragedy in his life, I am not sure what else has can determine him so vehemently to bring such bill. I feel with him but humanly speaking everyone has had their tragedies in life. It depends how you answer to them and if you choose life the tragedies will give you strength to go on and enjoy and learning new insights for life which only such tragedies can teach you. Also you see things and feel better than anyone else and there is a joy and peace inside of you which no one can steal from you. In the same time bitterness does not find its place in our hearts as ugly as it is.

Sincere and dedicated love is the key of life and balking in forgiveness. This is a choose which we need to make it in our life

Please do not bring such bill on this beautiful land of Australia a land of plenty a land full of possibilities

WE DO NOT WANT TO Bring A CURSE ON THIS LAND with our man made laws and do not let nature and creation developed as ordained from the origin of life.

Please note : a nation to exist needs every family have 4 children, 2 replaces the parents and two for developing future Australian generation. Every Australian needs to think what are they doing for their children and grandchildren. What kind of laws we bring on this land for our future generations?

Remember the alcohol and smoking how much destroy human heart and their families and how much the government spend on health issues wi these type of hearts and their family implications socially and psychological? The next plague is illicit drugs and abortion and sickness brought in mass due to other plagues on the nation. What do we choose as a nation? There are only two options: good or evil.

I hope I will not be misunderstood.

Let's all together choose life and good and refute evil.

With great love for this Australian land and people,

This is mai country from the last 33 years.
