To the committee considering Sen Pyne's latest bill on abortion.

I want to register my objection to this bill. A baby is a life from the moment of conception and should be treated with the utmost respect as such...a life to treasure. If a mother does not desire to keep her baby the baby should be offered for adoption, this being by far the choice that leaves less scars on the birth mother emotionally. I acknowledge that to facilitate this the adoption laws need to be revisited and put within the reach of the average citizen who desires to adopt.

I would also point out that not only does this bill open the door to kill the baby right up until birth, but abortions are proven to be dangerous to the mother both physically and emotionally. Having been in the counseling field for many years I can attest to the fact that the emotional scars are very deep.

Trusting that you, the committee charged with the responsibility of assessing this bill, take note of the many many citizens who are against this bill being passed.

Faithfully
