Abortion is a by-product of one's laziness. After savouring the pleasure, someone tends to abandon their responsibilities and obligations to take care of the life they've created. To those people who are pro-abortion, their parents should have decided to abort them in the first place as they do not contribute any good to the society. What gave them the right to deliberately terminate a life that is developing?

I'll say NO to abortion! It takes a man to say NO to abortion and only WEAK people will agree to it!
