Hi,

I hear that you are considering passing two new abortion laws - why?

You are putting women at risk with these new abortion laws.

Why is it always men who have a say on women's health- what right have you got to say "you can do something to your body that will kill you" because that's what you are allowing!

You have no knowledge of what happens to a woman's body and yet you get to say the last word about it.

Wake up to yourself before you allow these new bills to progress, before it's too late.

Child birth is precious, treat it as such for women's sake.

Consider how you would feel if someone you know and love decided to do what these bills allow and ends up having complications because of her advanced stage of pregnancy, her mental health is compromised through which her body was ready to accept her child (now dead), she now hates herself and everyone around her and tries to commit suicide- this will happen because her body has produced all the nutrients in her body to have this child and now it's dead- her body can't cope with this shock to the system, which now creates more problems than you (a male with no knowledge) can imagine.

Please reconsider what you are planning on allowing.
