You cannot be serious! To allow this bill to be passed - A 14 year old can elect to have ECT or psychosurgery but is protected by law from the evils of alcohol and anyone assisting them to obtain it is breaking the law. But some freak who says that zapping their brain with X amount of electricity or detaching it from their skull with a knife is good for them is ok - you have got to be as mad as they are to agree to this.

Look at the stats. Since mental illness became recognised as a condition it has grown exponentially, has not improved the condition for the individual or the society (only worsened it) at the cost of the taxpayer.

Say no to this bill.
