Subject: Public Health (Exclusion of Unvaccinated Children from Child Care) Amendment Bill 2013
Date: Saturday, 22 June 2013 11:23:39 PM

I am writing to express my grave concerns regarding the proposed Bill. I cannot believe that Australia in 2013 is even considering this sort of discrimination.

Having a child vaccinated by is not a legal requirement in Australia so how dare the State make such a requirement.

I would pursue this legally or via international law if this was the case.

I have a child who is not vaccinated in your language but i invest more into his health than most people.

I build up his immunity by investing my money & time into his nutrient & wellbeing I chose not to vaccinate him for many reasons, it was a very considered decision AND a legal right

So ..it will be legal to bring into child care centres a birthday cake - which is completely processed & laden with numerous colourings, chemicals & additives- many of which are banned in Europe, but not have an extremely healthy child unvaccinated attend the Centre.

There is something very wrong with the society we are designing...but it does sound very much like an American one.

Are there not more pressing concerns for parliament to be attending to?

Start with obesity & depression if they wish to be looking into the health of the nation.

Yours in concern
