

From: Sally Ryhanen
To: Health and Community Services Committee
Subject: Exclusion of unvaccinated children from child care
Date: Wednesday, 3 July 2013 9:21:57 PM

---

There is too much empirical evidence to show that an unacceptable number of children are damaged by vaccines. My granddaughter changed overnight from a vibrant smiling young baby to one who just sat, limp and with her tongue lolling out of her mouth the day after her first vaccination but no doctor was brave enough to state the obvious. Her mother was hospitalised after travel jabs at the age of 20. Research has stated that while the vaccination may not cause long term damage on itself underlying conditions may be brought to the surface due to the assault on the immune system. Why not spend research dollars on identifying those with a susceptibility and protect them rather than discriminate against them?