As a mother and a Woman myself I'm very concerned about advertising becoming so sexual and so quickly. I was sexually abused as a child and have been raped many times as an adult and I believe this is due to porn. My daughter has now also been sexually abused and she wasn't even three years old. I can't even drive to my local corner shop with out passing signs of Woman half naked posted everywhere sending my three year old daughter messages that her body is just a sex objected to not be valued. I also feel very uncomfortable having to see this everywhere. My husband feels the same way. In his words "Not all men are wired to need to be simulated by sexual advertising everywhere. I really don't want to have to see it Everywhere". It shouldn't even need to be discussed. It's obvious the damage this is doing to society.
