Sir/Madam;

Families have been concerned about sexually explicit billboards for a long time now.

Well here is your chance to prove to families that you care.

Billboards need to be cleaned up and stopped being used to promote political correctness, social engineering and overt sex etc.

Families should be looked after and public space should be G Rated only.

The effect on children of non G rated billboards is not acceptable and never has been acceptable.

Sex is a private matter and should not be publically flaunted on billboards and rammed down our throats.

It is time to build a virtuous society with virtuous values otherwise our society will degenerate further and fail like the Romans and Greeks and others. I am sure that this is what the ANZACs would have wanted.

Yours Sincerely;

Lee Nightingale;
