All humans deserve Human Rights, as the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, Article 6 states and especially babies born alive after an attempted abortion. They are humans and it is therefore imperative to give them the same rights as other human beings, by giving them medical care and treatment. Leaving them alone to die in a room by themselves or dumping them in a bin while still breathing is abhorrent and cruel. The Abortion Law Reform Act 2019 (New South Wales) – section 11 (3) states “To avoid doubt, the duty owed by a registered health practitioner to provide medical care and treatment to a person born as a result of a termination is no different than the duty owed to provide medical care and treatment to a person born other than as a result of a termination.” Queensland needs to make this the highest priority.
