Submitter Comments:

I support appropriate medical care - lifesaving care and pain relief - for babies born alive as a result of a failed abortion. These babies feel pain just like anyone else. Its not their fault they were conceived; they had no say in that as did neither you or I, but because they were conceived in error or deemed to be unacceptable for some other reason, they are treated like medical waste. They are human and have feelings and deserve the same medical care you or I would receive. Having a late term abortion is easier than its ever been. More abortions means more failed abortions. Thats simple maths. That means more Queenslanders deprived of appropriate medical care. This is a gross departure from the hipocratic oath and it needs to be stopped.Thank youRebecca Andersen
