Public Submission by Melissa Wolters.

My name is Melissa and I live in Logan, Qld. I am a Carer for my children and Mother. My daughter had health concerns before she was born however I opted not to have any testing that may have harmed her. If you want to argue that an unborn baby is not human and unable to access basic human rights, then the least you can do is accept that a baby born alive is a human and therefore should be allowed basic human rights like the rest of us.

The most fundamental responsibility of the Government is to care for the most vulnerable. The government wants to uphold "what's in the best interest of the child" in another bill and yet they want to say that these helpless babies are not children because they were not chosen by the parents. Please don't let these poor children suffer such a painful death because they were an inconvenience in the lives of their parents bad choices. Please put yourselves in their place, and see the destruction not only on their body and souls but also the long term trauma that will affect and has affected the medical field and most likely the parents.

I urge the committee to recommend that the Parliament pass this legislation as the current legislation is inhumane.

Sincerely, Melissa Wolters
