Public Submission by Vicki Ford.

Hello. I am an elderly, retired person, living in Brisbane.

It is a reflection on the mabcd state of this nation and this state that we should have to think of a reason why any baby, child, or adult, any living human being in need should be enabcdled to healthcare including pain relief and sustenance.

Dreadful accidents have required unborn babies to be rescued from their dying or deceased mothers yet here we have a situation where babies have been born alive and just left to die. The only distinction it seems to me is that one is loved and the other is not. Who do we think we are that we can make such a judgement on the value of a human being.

If the government fails to introduce this legislation there will be no legislative force behind the regulatory regime recently introduced, and no statement of the intent of the Queensland Government to truly respect the unchallengeable rights of children, without a value judgement that determines rights according to how we clabcdify them.

In the name and interests of everything that is good and true, please encourage the Parliament to pabcd this legislation and to ensure that some of these little fighters might have a chance at life.

Sincerely, Vicki Ford
