Public Submission by Therese Adolfsen.

A baby's heartbeat can be heard at 3 weeks gestation. If that's not life, then those opposite have their head in the sand and need to attend an abortion clinic to see what they horridly support. Those who I know have had terminations, have regretted this for the rest of their lives. A woman who has had a termination is more likely to take their own life than others. A life is a life and a life begins at conception. Many, many women will not live with their guilt of terminating their unborn child. Babies' heartbeat can be heard at 3 weeks gestation and they do feel pain. Babies have been known to cry when being aborted, torn apart from their "mothers". Coercion too must be addressed. To the Committee: Aren't you lucky your mothers did not abort you. Innocent, self-less, babies discarded as "toxic waste". Your life began at conception, in your Mother's womb yet you agree to legislate to allow lives, such as yours to be discarded like garbage. I'm Thérèse and I'm retired and I believe every life is meant to be - just like yours.

Sincerely, Therese Adolfsen
