Failing to pass this legislation to protect the most vulnerable is a failure of human rights in Queensland. I urge the committee to recommend this legislation is passed in Parliament.
Hi, I'm a resident [REDACTED] and I'm making a submission regarding the Babies Born Alive Bill. In any other setting, harm or lack of healthcare provided to a baby would be pursued as a serious crime. Once a baby is born alive the argument can no longer be made that it is the woman's choice, woman's choice. This child is now undeniably a separate human being and the human and healthcare rights available to every other Queenslanders should be provided.
It is our Government's responsibility to look after its people. If essential healthcare is denied to our most vulnerable citizens then our healthcare system is a sham, and our leadership has failed.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
