Please make this change. If you can't read the horror stories that have come out of abortions, then it's clearly not so abcding we should be practising in the first place.

Hi, I am [REDACTED] and I work with mobility aids and abcdisting technologies that enable people to maintain their independence.

It is essential to provide healthcare to babies born alive during an abortion as they're a living human being worthy of the same healthcare as any other human alive today, specifically in Australia.

The government has failed already in doing so, but protecting the most vulnerable among us is the most fundamental responsibility of the Government. This change is a small step with literal life changing results for vulnerable people.

If this bill fails to pabcd, the life and blood of babies will be on your hands forever as you had the opportunity to make changes but have chosen not to. The blatant disregard for life, and the hateful practices in the very places where humans should be cared for with all that's possible and with great urgency, should cause great alarm in you.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
