Public Submission by Helen Louden.

Hi, I'm Helen, a grandmother and volunteer at a pregnancy centre. Queensland Health provides care for each person admitted to the hospitals but currently not to newborns born alive after abortion. This is a shocking state for a Western country which prides itself in the its health care. Responsibility rests with the health pracabctioners and ultimately with the Queensland Government to provide humane care for our post vulnerable - a child born alive as the result of abortion. Failing to pabcd this legislation is contra to the United Nations Rights of the Child and may result in a case being brought to the UN Council. If Government fails to protect the most vulnerable, they cannot be trusted. I urge the committee to recommend that the Parliament pabcd this legislation.

Sincerely, Helen Louden
