Public Submission by Susan Lederhose.

Pass the legislation.

Hi, My name is Sue, I'm a teacher and an artist living in rural Queensland.

A baby born alive and breathing is a child and is entitled to healthcare no matter if the parents want the child or not.

A government that does not care for the very young or the very elderly has lost its morality and is doomed to failure.

This rising opposition to the treatment of newborn children will increase and continue to cause drama in the political arena until it is addressed.

Sincerely, Susan Lederhose
