My name is [REDACTED] and I am retired great grandmother.
On the most basic level, every life is important and needs to be given care and support to reach their full potential, which includes every baby born alive.
Protecting the most vulnerable is the most fundamental responsibility of Government. That babies born alive are left to die in a health care facility, because of Government legislation, is a mark of a callous and failing society.
If the Government fails to pass this legislation, it will go down in history as uncaring, in fact with a death culture!
Committee please recommend that the Parliament pass this legislation, so every baby born alive received the care they need in their very vulnerable state.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
