Dear Committee Secretary,
My name is [REDACTED], I live in Brisbane and am an engineer. I am also heavily involved in voluntary Christian work, being a director of a system of Christian schools based in Queensland. I believe in the sanctity of life and wish to express my support for the bill that Robbie Katter has introduced into Queensland parliament. I believe that babies have a right to life whether the mother has decided to attempt to abort them or not. I believe in a highly capable and compassionate society like we have in Queensland, care for the most vulnerable should be a priority in society. I do not believe restricting care to new-borns who have survived abortion attempts is a valid approach to healthcare in any nation, especially one as advanced as Australia. I expect to see the government of Queensland, which is such a developed state, to provide this most fundamental right to the most vulnerable in our society. If the government fails to pass this legislation, which is vital to protecting the most vulnerable in our society, new born babies will continue to be abandoned to their death, simply because they are not wanted. Pro choice activists will continue to promote a culture of selfishness and death in our society. This will invariably lead to a decline and loss of the amazing society that we appreciate as Queenslanders! Please recommend that the parliament pass this critical piece of legislation.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
