I urge the committee to support the legislation and apply pressure on Parliament to pass this bill.
Hi, my name is [REDACTED]. I live in Brisbane and am married with three children.
It is a sad thing to think that we need to campaign for health care and life support to be given to children born alive. A child born alive should be provided with the same level of care that anyone of us would expect.
These children represent the most vulnerable amongst us and need our love and care. They have no voice for themselves so we must stand up for them in pursuit of what is good and right - the basic of human care to give them all the support necessary for life.
Failure to pass this legislation will only provide evidence of an in-humane society, where will this take our society? I fear rejection of this bill only sets us on a path to see history repeat the atrocities that once horrified the world. Let's learn from the past mistakes and aim for a better future.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
