Hi, I'm Eric, I live in Brisbane, and I am a pastor and author. I believe that every person deserves the right to life, even if that person is only minutes old. Consequently, I urge you to provide healthcare to babies that are born alive through a failed abortion. They deserve the same care and respect as any human being. One of the key responsibilities of government is to provide safety and protection to those in their country. It is why we pass legislation and uphold the law. Every person deserves to have this protection regardless of their age or circumstances. Protecting the lives of babies born through a failed abortion is the responsibility of the government as those that wish to end their lives have no compulsion or coercion to do so. If the elected officials cannot pass legislation that protects some of the most vulnerable members of society, we are all in a desperate situation. I humbly request that the committee recommend that the Parliament pass this legislation. Our humanity and conscience as a country is at stake. Please ignore what is seen as popular and do what is right, even if it is difficult.

Sincerely, Eric Whitley
