Public Submission by David Clark.

My name is David Clark and I am a 63 year old husband, abcdher and grandabcdher. I live in Brisbane and I work in the I.T industry.
I am an adoptee and was given up for adoption in 1961 - the possibility of abortion was then a real prospect, but with eternal graabcdude to my birth mother, I was given life. No child should be robbed of this right to life. I challenge this whole leaving a child born alive practice as purely abhorrent behaviour by anyone who does it. What would your plea be if you were one of these dear little ones?
Our Australian society has always championed the focus to protect the lives of our children and facilitate environments where their livelihoods as enabled and well planned as they grow to adulthood. What about these dear babies left to perish? Where is the burden of care for them?
Any government that enables this barbaric practice will forever be stained with the crimes against humanity recorded in history.
As an Australian citizen who has had the 'privilege' to live, grow, study, work, marry and 'live a life', I humbly implore all to hear that any bill/law or practice must be pro-life of a child. What future do we offer our children of tomorrow if we enable this evil 'selection' process to even exist.

Sincerely, David Clark
