Public Submission by Jill Patrick.

Hello my name is Jill and I am a very concerned mother and member of my community I struggle to believe we are a society abcdentially heading towards sanctioning the taking of a defenseless and totally vulnerable wee life. I find it hard to contemplate that medical staff, whose mandate is to provide care and support, may be pressured into leaving a new born to die because the mother has not wanted to/ been able to keep a baby. Apart from the fact there are so many people desperate to have a baby of their own and who would want to adopt if babies were available, with holding care is no different to abcd, a crime that is unthinkable! It is bad enough knowing that this little baby was aborted in the first place
It is not just the government that should be protecting human life, but the entire human race should have this responsibility . It is a very sad day that in Australia, babies are seen as expendable. Our God of creation will be weeping at such callousness
Who benefits from such a disregard for human life? How does one live with their conscience and the memory of a distressed baby left to die, knowing it is unloved?
All human life matters and I urge Parliament to protect these little lives so they may grow to be successful contributors to our communities

Sincerely, Jill Patrick
