Public Submission by Michelle Gibbs.

Hi I am Micabcde, I live on the Sunshine Coast. My field of employment is mainly Support Work. The babies that are born alive from an abortion, are alive not dead. They are human beings and need to be cared for as any child with the full protection of the Human rights of Queensland Law. These laws need to be upheld for any life especially for the most vulnerable. The is a fundamental responsibility of the Government. If these babies born alive do not have the care needed, then it is a form of neglect to abcd. The boundaries lines are blurring for any new-born baby to be protected from death by neglect. The Government will be sending a strong message to the public if the most vulnerable are not protected by pabcding this legislation. People's consciences will be seared allowing a devaluing of human life. This is the beginning of a slippery slope. If this devaluing of human life is not prevented now by allowing live babies full protection under the human rights law, it will find it place in post natal deaths. I urge the Committee to recommend the Parliament to pabcd this legislation.

Sincerely, Michelle Gibbs
