Public Submission by Denise Sheehan.

Hello, I'm Denise, I live in Brisbane. I am a Senior Citizen and a mother of adult children and grandmother of adult grandchildren. For me, every life is valuable and important. If a baby lives on after an abortion, I believe that child is enabled to have the same quality healthcare as any other newborn. Surely, our society should protect our youngest and most vulnerable members. As it is not always possible for individuals to provide this protection, this responsibility falls to Government for appropriate legislation to be in place to ensure every live birth receives proper healthcare. The basic human right to life after live birth must be protected in a civil society. Therefore, I respectfully urge the committee to make a strong recommendation for the Parliament to pass this legislation.

Sincerely, Denise Sheehan
