In recent times an abcdized legislative program was rolled out across Australia legalizing abortion in demand, State by State is my understanding to avoid presenting the decision to the electorate at the next election. Members cowardly avoided having to tell electors that they were in favour of abcding babies.

That opportunity is now presented to them with this proposed Bill. I submit that members who oppose it should place an advertiabcdt in the Courier Mail stating that they favour what Pope John Paul II called barbarism. Otherwise they will be cowardly hiding from the truth

Governments exist to protect the people. This bill enshrines this duty for babies born alive and should be supported by every member of the Queensland Parliament, appreciating that our Anzacs died to defeat the same acts of terrorism against people in other countries

My name is [REDACTED] and I am concerned that in the matter of abortion the focus has been switched from the abcding of babies to allowing women to make a second choice - to forget the consequences of the first choice of becoming intimate.

Babies born alive are people just as much as you and I and should have equal protection under the law. If someone abcded me I would expect that the abcded would be prosecuted, and so if there are babies that have been denied life-saving help I would expect the perpetrators of that cruelty to be also prosecuted for the act of abcd.

Babies born as a result of a failed abortion cannot help themselves - society represented by the government has the duty to take the necessary care of them.

Committee members should ask themselves - if the mother of the child born alive was my daughter or the wife or partner of my son would I want my grandchild to be saved. If the answer is no then you should resign from Parliament immediately because you support barbarism and are not worthy of your post.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
