Submission for PUBLIC HEALTH AND OTHER LEGISLATION (COVID-19 MANAGEMENT) AMENDMENT BILL 2022

I agree with deactivating the emergency act, however, I disagree with “health” powers to be extended.

The implemented strategy did not meet its goals, and was a complete failure, that caused so many injuries at different levels.

Damage caused by “Health” department and the government strategy:

Early treatments were discouraged and suppressed, which lead to illnesses getting worsened. There was only one way to treat covid and it was the vaccine. This solution paralyzed doctors from doing anything else, which should have saved at least 80% of those who died (according to Dr Peter McCullough, TX, USA).

The “health” department failed in acknowledging that individual health level and immunity is unique per individual. A cookie cutter solution is disappointing and unacceptable.

I may trust a doctor with my health issue and be able to discuss with him or her the remediations, provided I am informed with true and correct data and understand the risks.

Unfortunately no one was allowed to say anything that may promote vaccine hesitancy.

Unfortunately this means the system can not be trusted, as it failed first principle, “first do no harm”. The government and health department has completely overreached its powers by shortcutting and bypassing the need for a doctor. Note that not having informed consent from the people for getting the vaccine is illegal according to human rights. This means the government has already broken the law.

The ministry of “Health” has not provided health state of those went to the hospitals, if they were deficient in any immune system nutrients or underlying illnesses.

“Health department “ was not seeking much science updates. It was obvious that the vaccine has in no way stopped or slowed down Omicron strain. The “health” department have not performed their due diligence monitoring highly vaccinated regions compared to none vaccinated regions internationally and been more proactive on what to be done learning from other experiences.

Lack of recognition to natural immunity (recognized by CDC recently), which forced some with low susceptibility to the virus and healthy people to take the vaccine to continue day to day life, causing unnecessary injuries.

The emergency act continued even though unvaccinated as well as vaccinated were getting infected and infecting, yet the officials were pushing the vaccines to meet goals based on numbers of vaccinated not well being.

Failure to collaborate with other international scientists, to have a balanced scientific opinion, based on frontline experiences and oppositions critical thinking knowledge. So many did not agree with this strategy.

Aside from vaccine injuries , yet to conclude, psychological damage to kids spent so much time dealing with masks, inability to visit dying loved ones, etc.

The government and “health” service showed lack of support to the unvaccinated and not providing acceptable alternatives, even for the heroes that were in the frontline from the beginning of the pandemic. The government and “health” services divided society, by gaslighting the unvaccinated, to suit goals of reaching numbers. This to the extent of saying “the virus will hunt down the unvaccinated”, QLD PM.

The fear campaign shows lack of scientific knowledge of placebo impact and effect.

The health department is incorrectly named, as their expertise is in drugs.

The word “Health” being used in the name is deceiving and virtue signals the incorrect message.

Words are important. They should be named something inline with medicinal treatments, or anything else that is related to their day to day job.

There has been no health advice to take supplements and to be diligent with health choices.

For example , vitamin D, C, and zinc. D is activated from the sun, yet at some point people were not allowed to go out. As far as I understand, there has not been much if any outdoor transmission. I can provide peer to peer studies on most of the above if needed.

If the government was successful in vaccinating 100% of the population, there would be no baseline comparison of the effectiveness of the vaccine and could have made the biggest unknown damage in history, if not already. This risk should have not been taken and by coercing all. It is very reckless.

As long as the government and “health” department do not respect individual health autonomy, they can not be trusted. I do not consent to any coercion in regard to my health and well being decisions.
