

Public Health and Other Legislation (COVID-19 Management) Amendment Bill 2022

Submission No: 45
Submitted by: Kerri-Ann Watson
Publication:
Attachments:
Submitter Comments:

From: Kerri-Ann Watson
To: Health and Environment Committee
Subject: Public health and other legislation amendment bill 2022 submission
Date: Thursday, 15 September 2022 9:07:53 PM

I want to make a submission that no further powers whatsoever be given to the Chief Health Officer in Queensland, as proposed by the Public health and other legislation amendment bill 2022. All emergency powers or extra powers given to the CHO should be revoked. These types of powers should not or have ever been given to unelected people, to make decisions about the lives of Australians, when we never consented in the first place. They are immoral and unconstitutional. The emergency powers should end and no further measures be taken without the Australian public's consent. We elect our government & we must have the power to choose for ourselves how we respond to health risks. Recommendations should be available, but not 'mandates' or laws regarding bodily autonomy or other measures to control our lives or movements.

Signed, Kerri-Ann Watson.

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.