My submission

The CHO's powers should be immediately curtailed as she has constantly made up nonsensical rules 'on the fly', eg wear a mask when driving by yourself. She constantly claims that decisions are made based on 'medical advice' however this advice, so far, has been non-existent.

Further I believe that all decisions that have been made re Wuhan Flu since January last year (2020) that have been made 'based on medical advice' should have the relevant medical advice released to the public. If there has been ANY decision or restriction made not totally based on this advice then both the CMO & the premier should be jailed for misleading the citizens of Queensland. Further they should lose any government pensions, payouts or golden handshakes in addition to being personally liable for any & all business losses caused by these dodgy decisions.

Also if it is shown that any person committed suicide due to these rules then they should also face charges of MURDER.

Yours Faithfully
Chris Henseleit
