Submitter Comments:

As an Intensive Care Nurse of only five years, I have seen a mass variety of death. People have died in induced comas - a very peaceful and quick passing, while others are left to die in pain and choking on their secretions. I am writing to support voluntary assisted dying as I know of so many patients that could have benefited from this. In addition, I personally have a fear of not being able to choose my own death, having seen so much already.
