Subject: Submission against the State Government's assisted suicide bill

My objections to this bill are based on worries that vulnerable people will be exploited rather than assisted to not take their own lives. Expert assistance is required in this instance. Palliative care for the dying is the correct assistance, not euthanasia. Attempts to talk people out of suicide is a jailable offence. How ridiculous is that! Doctors are meant to save lives, not take them. Carol O'Connell [REDACTED]
