Subject: VAD - Dignity in Dying No room for religion in politics

IN FULL SUPPORT OF VAD

When it comes to politicians voting on VAD I hope compassion and common sense takes precedence over religious objection.

There is no basis for politicians inflicting their worldviews as a basis for public policy, which they impose on others. "Religious politicians are so tightly wrapped in their religious security blanket they cannot comprehend that their subjective worldview fails any rational, objective test".

When quality of life is eroded to the extent one loses the will to live, it should be the individual's intrinsic right to choose VAD.

Yours sincerely,

Dorothy Peters
