I have just spent 5 days in [REDACTED] Qld with my sister who has bone cancer, she had radiation that did not work. As she also has cancer in her lung and lymph nodes she has opted to not have chemo as it would only prolong her life and not give her quality of life. In that 5 days I spent with my sister she went from a 1 which was pretty good to a 7 out of 10 where she can hardly walk anywhere and has a lot of pain. I do not call this living she is ready to go to a better place.
