Re: Problems with VAD Bill

Dear Health and Environment Committee,

I am very concerned about the proposed euthanasia bill. History has not given me any confidence that this bill will avoid the unfortunate killing of people, who properly cared for would not choose to kill themselves. We already get rid of unwanted babies that are inconvenient. We will now begin to get rid of other inconvenient people. Just like abortion can now occur up to childbirth. Euthanasia will inevitably expand its inclusion to those who are becoming a drain on society. This will occur as the cost of providing a viable safety net for the vulnerable, disabled, and poor becomes too much of an economic drain for society. With a unicameral government, opposition is highly unlikely to prevent this bill. However, its protective measures need to be far stronger. If anything can be abused, then people will find a way to do so. So please moderate this piece of legislation.

Sincerely,
Robert Rawson
