Re: Submission to the Health Committee

Dear Health Committee Members,

Dear Minister for health,

I am concerned about the Assisted Suicide bill before parliament. I am personally against this and see a huge conflict for many of our health care professionals who are fighting for life at all costs, yet the government want to legislate to allow voluntary ending of life? This may make it difficult for many of these people to continue to provide care when they are not being supported by money and resources to provide adequate care.

Surely we need to protect and support our medical staff better than have them do something many of them may oppose and not feel at all comfortable with suggesting and or supporting.

We should be supporting life at all costs, not intentionally causing harm or death.

Sincerely,
Kevin Jensen
