Re: I oppose the "Voluntary Assisted Dying" Bill

Dear Health Committee Members,

I whole heartedly oppose the proposed voluntary assisted dying bill. Australia not a under developed backward country. Even the poor countries do not have this kind of laws. Australia is a rich nation with one of the best health care in the world.

Qld State Govt has the economic capacity to increase funding for better palliative care. Dignified palliative care can be a positive human care that brings families together to celebrate life well lived of an old age family member. This is the foundations of a strong society that Australia needs in the future. We are loosing this strong family morals that held Australia for centuries.

Every Australian has a constitutional and human right to a natural end of life where all medical intervention possible ends. This is my personal conviction and this bill bothers my own conscience if I am in this situation as a care giver or the one on the death bed.

Sincerely,
Francis Xavier

Sincerely,
Francis Kame Xavier
