Re: I oppose the "Voluntary Assisted Dying" Bill

Dear Health Committee Members,

Life and good palliative care should be the aim of every society. Euthanasia leads to a slippery slope where life is devalued and people feel that they are an unnecessary burden or that there are no other options. Rather, those sick and old should be honoured and taken care of; respect for those who are feeble and infirm should be instilled in each person in society. Thus, painkillers and good palliative care should be offered instead of assisted suicide.

Sincerely,
Wendy Xu
