Please support VAD.

My father passed in absolute agony 7 years ago today. Palliative care was not enough for him and did not alleviate his pain. It was that bad, I couldn't cut his fingernails without him crying. This was devastating to myself and my sister, as my father was a bear of a man (strong, independent and fiercely pro VAD). The way he passed in front of my sister and I was absolutely heartbreaking. People that are dying should be able to have the choice in their end of life options - and not have to pass in pain like my father.

Kind regards
Sharon Stretton
