Re: I oppose the "Voluntary Assisted Dying" Bill

Dear Health Committee Members,

I don't believe that this is the right course of action for Queensland to take. Having worked in palliative care my self I understand the temptation to end suffering BUT only to those who have no chance of survival. This bill could let almost any one commit voluntary suicide and it is discouraged to try and talk them out of it!! "Trying to talk someone out of assisted suicide could put you in jail for up to 7 years." And on top of that there is no Mental health screening!?! Are you crazy? Maybe you should get a mental health screen.

Sincerely,
Samuel Davies
