Subject: YES to voluntary Assisted Dying in Queensland

To whom it may concern,

I have lived in Queensland for 10 years. I am 72 and my husband is 79 years old. We are still healthy and independent but we have watched too many people die (and their family suffer emotional) through the worst pain and loss of dignity. Queensland needs to show to whole of Australia that they are socially advanced and current with a resounding YES. This would give us the right to end a life which is deemed too painful or undignified.
