Re: I oppose the "Voluntary Assisted Dying" Bill

Dear Health Committee Members,

We strongly object to the above Bill being proposed by the Queensland Government.

All aspects are very concerning as naive and people in a stressed, difficult and often sudden situation are not being properly made aware of all their options.

Two of the most concerning aspects of this dangerous proposed law are:-

2. Junior General Practitioners with little or limited experience are given the power to advise something they no little or nothing about.

11. If a person tries to help another who is dying or near death, but tries to talk them out of assisted suicide they could be jailed for up to 7 years. How disgusting that parents, siblings, friends who care deeply for this person could face jail time for caring for the person as well as their soul.

All aspects are very concerning, you a placing medical staff, doctors, nurses and many others in a situation where they make a decision that they could come to regret in time and which may weigh on their conscience.

Sincerely

Gino and Patricia Nucifora

Sincerely,
Patricia and Gino Nucifora
