I think everyone has a right to decide when to die with dignity and respect .

If you have no quality of life and are a burden on family and resources.

We don't let our loved pets suffer like we force humans the pain on them and family to watch them suffer pain and embarrassment of people wash them, changing their nappies let alone wear one , taking them to the toilet and feeding them . Most people know they are love by family and friends and that they know it's what the person would want. To die with dignity and peacefully
