Subject: Inhuman treatment with end of life

Categories: Submission

In my life I have nursed people as a profession then watched my darling mother and my darling husband die after going through the horror of dying from cancer.

If these people were animals then we would be held responsible for being cruel for letting them go through such a cruel ordeal.

Why then is it ok to watch a human go through such an horrific ordeal??

Please help to pass the laws that allow us as a society to be compassionate and caring in a correct and honourable way.

I want to be able to make the choice while I am well and have my loving family know what my wishes are so that if and when the time comes the fear of how my death will play out is reduced immeasurably.

Thank you

Sue
